Puducherry, dated 8th December 2017.

Guidelines for setting up of Reading and Maths corner for Class III, IV and V

- A corner (place) may be chosen in the class with easy access and adequate space for displaying books for children to read.
- Teachers shall equip the corners with paper, colours and pencils for children to read, write and draw. Children's work shall be displayed on the walls or boards.
- The teachers may link the stories of reading corner books with the text books.
- The books may be kept on the table/shelves/racks/hanging in a rope with easy access.
- The reading corner may be provided with proper lightening.
- The reading corner should have a good collection of children's literature keeping in mind the need and interest of children with good quality viz. genres, content, language, illustrations, ethics, constitutional values and many other factors. Books from the selected lists of children's literature recommended by the NCERT (2008, 2013) may be included in reading corner.
- The teacher's participation is important in this initiative to cultivate reading habits among them. Hence motivation or training may be provided to the class III, IV and V teachers.
- Reading aloud of meaningful text/story books and storytelling through gestures and expressions.
- To elicit creative responses from the children by neither talking down at children nor watering down learning opportunities.
- Language games based on the displayed print and content.
- Use of local rhymes, stories and songs as print material for reading pleasure.
- Activities which allow children to draw/write and then express the meaning what they have written/drawn.
- Give opportunity to children to develop own stories individually or in groups and appreciating stories developed by them.
- Classroom conversations based on classroom displays, poems, texts and pictures.
- Supplementary books of picture and stories may be issued to enrich the reading corner in the class room.
- Experience based and imaginative writing which supports the development of listening, speaking and reading.

M. S. S. S.
08/12/17

- Opportunity to use and understand different genres and text types such as narratives, poems, information books and texts, instructions, expository texts which present or argue viewpoints.
- Provide opportunities to explore 3-D and 2-D shapes found in the environment.
- Encourage children to identify various elements of an object and later relates a 3-D object and 2-D picture/shape.
- Teachers asking children "Morning Message" and writing it on the board and reading to children.
- Showcasing children's accomplishment in community events.
- Visits to fairs, post office, police station, local body, diverse religious cultural institutions to celebrate local diversity, etc.
- Liberty and freedom shall be given to the students for selection and enjoying the books. Hence the Head teacher shall create conducive environment in the school by which teachers get motivated and voluntarily involve themselves in setting up of Reading and Maths corners.
- Students may be nominated as Padhe Ambassadors (Reader's Ambassadors) for each class for effective implementation of reading and math corner.
- Students may be exposed to Reading and Maths corners during Library period and lunch break.

In addition, the schools may organize film shows, model activities on reading and writing habits, essay, painting and other competitions, role plays etc. to inculcate early reading and writing with comprehension and early mathematics.
